UMAINE FACULTY-LED STUDY ABROAD ON DRUG DECRIMINALIZATION

In 2000, faced with a crippling opioid crisis, Portugal made the choice to decriminalize all drugs for personal use and prioritize treatment, harm reduction, and public health. In May-term 2025, Professors Rob Glover and Karyn Sporer will be leading a three-week study abroad to Lisbon, Portugal to learn more about this policy shift. Learn firsthand from architects of the policy and practitioners. And explore one of the most beautiful, culturally rich, and affordable European cities!
